

Johannes Bosisio

Biography

Johannes Bosisio, is an Italian-born artist based in London. Spanning from painting to sculptural installation, Bosisio's art revolves around themes of transformation, freedom, desire, and hybridization. His unique approach involves seamlessly integrating organic forms with technological elements, blurring the lines between the natural and the artificial. Bosisio's artistry is characterized by his skillful manipulation of surfaces. He takes once-polished chrome and transforms it, leaving behind scratches and rough textures that tell a story of change and vitality. This deliberate alteration prompts viewers to contemplate new avenues for exploration, inviting us to rethink our identities in the face of technological advancement.
